Marina sale ok'd; trolley link eyed

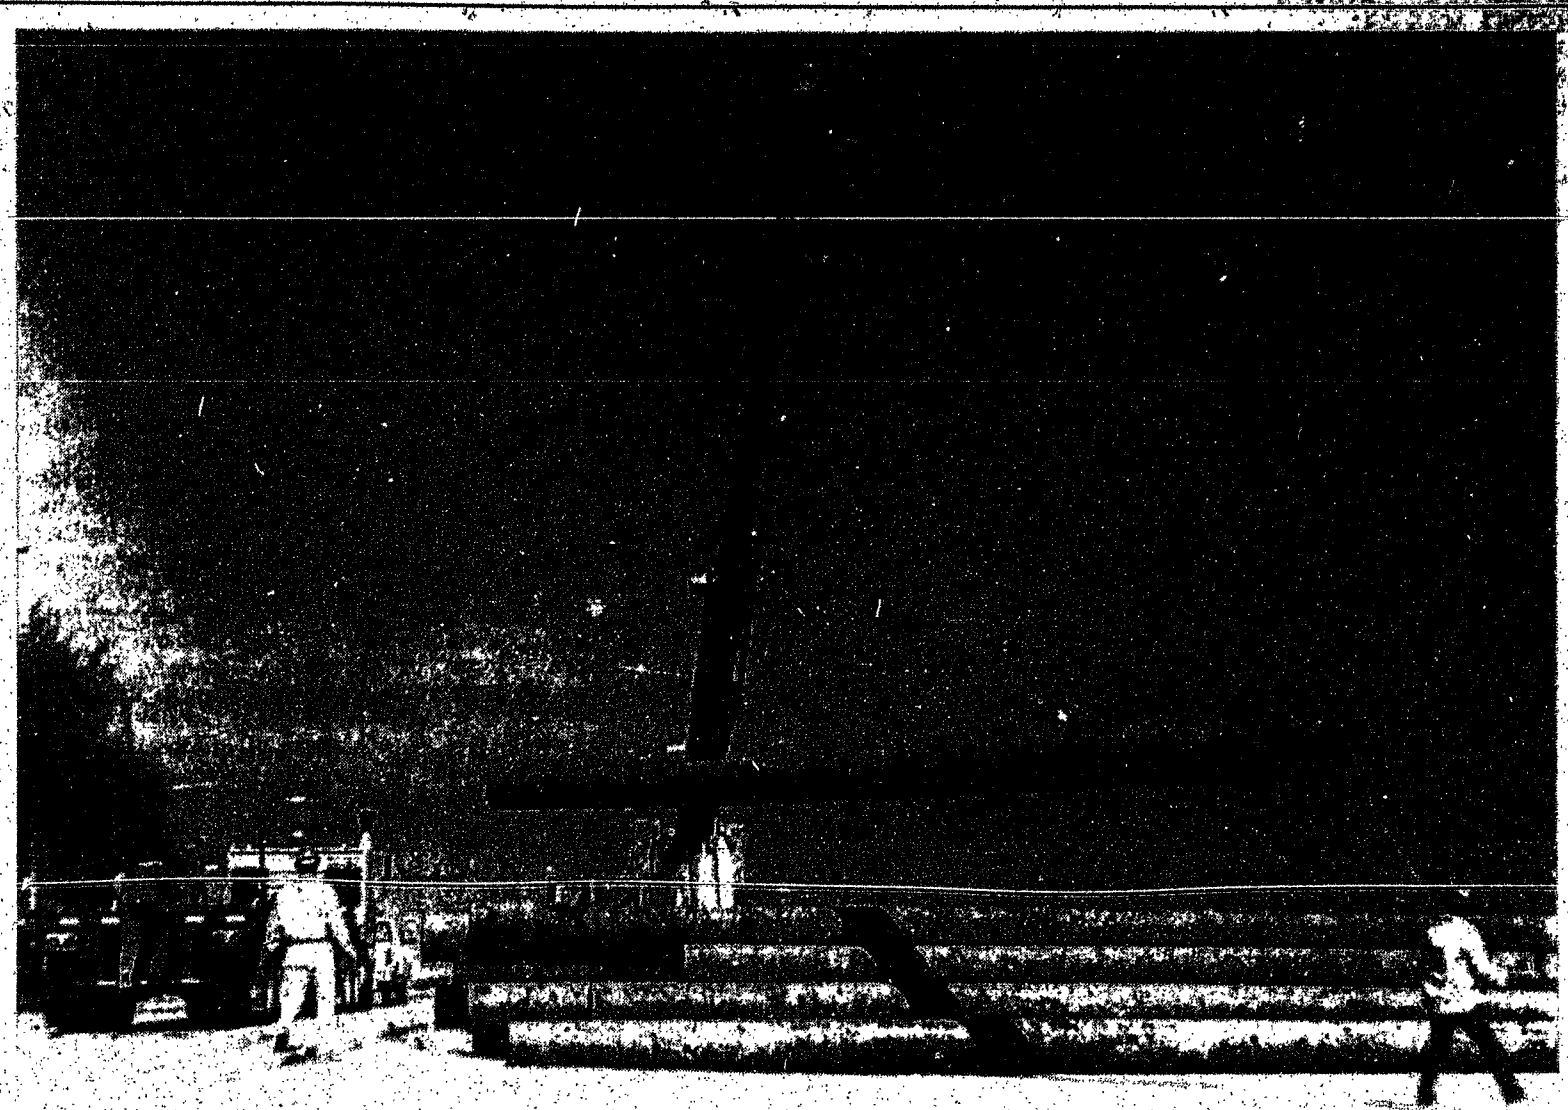

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Hancock County officials Tuesday ratified the proposed sale of Bayou Caddy Marina for $260,000, clearing the way for Jubilee Casino's expansion plans.
The Board of Supervisors also heard a request that it help finance a trolley link to the South Beach Boulevard casino.
The property sale, hammered out Friday by the Port and Harbor Commission, was endorsed by supervisors only after a glitch was resolved concerning the marina's boat launch.
The marina's new owners have pledged to keep the boat ramp open until a replacement facility is built by the county. Presumably, the county will use its $260,000 from the sale as seed money for grants to build a major harbor for commercial and recreational fishermen.
But Gulfport attorney Thomas Vaughn said the sale arrangement effectively negated the easement that the board recently approved giving the Beckendorff family access to the 1,500-acre Point Clear tract in the Jubilee neighborhood. That's because the easement touches the boat ramp, which, under terms of the sale, is to remain open.
"Effectively, you're going to close out development of that property," Vaughn said. He said prospective developers will back off unless the easement giving access to the property is a solid one. The property is up for sale at $10 million, and is being promoted as a prime casino/resort site.
Vaughn said the Point Clear development may be a hotel or some other quality investment, rather than a casino.
Supervisor Alton Kellar said.

County to replace computer system

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Hancock County officials approved bids Monday to replace their aged computer system and for aerial mapping. The related projects will cost some $671,000, but won't require a tax increase, officials said.
During a marathon five-hour meeting Monday, the Board of Supervisors also authorized plans to shore up a bridge said to be in "critical" condition, and to explore grants available for a sewerage project in the Pearlington area.
Officials accepted a low bid of $464,000 from Gulf Coast Aerial for photography that ultimately will be used in the tax assessor's computerized map system.

Beach renewal dredging equipment arrives

Sand on the way

Dredging to begin this weekend

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Officials hope to start pumping sand onto Hancock County's deteriorated beaches this weekend.
But on the eve of the long-awaited project, one Board of Supervisors member warned an "embarrassing" lack of coordination may lie ahead.
Dredge equipment for the $2.9 million renourishment recently arrived in the area and should begin operations this weekend, project engineer Bill Mitchell told the board Tuesday.
Once the pumping begins, he said, it will proceed around the clock, drawing from an estimated 1.2 million yards of sand in a borrow area offshore.
Mitchell advised the board of several matters possibly affecting the project -- engineers don't yet know what the loss rate will be as they transfer sand from the pit to the shore. In addition, the area to be replenished may have to change in the Clermont/Buccaneer Park area due to the presence of sea grasses.
And, he said, project officials will have to monitor the beaches for the existence of least terns.
Meanwhile, officials are worried that they haven't been successful in getting boat owners to move their crafts off the beach. Some fear that once the new sand is spread, winds will quickly remove a lot of it unless protective fencing is installed immediately.
The project calls for creating a 200-foot wide beach between Washington Street in Bay St. Louis and Wood Street near Buccaneer State Park in Waveland.

Portrait of a firefighter

Hancock High students got a taste of what it's like to be firefighter Wednesday as the Waveland Fire Department presented the program "Portrait of A Firefighter". Under the direction of Fire Chief David Garcia, firefighters gave students a hands-on lesson by demonstrating a self-contained breathing apparatus, fire service ropes and knots, fire hose rolling and a search and rescue barrel maze. Comfort station

Public restrooms planned to accomodate tourists

BY MARY G. SEILEY
A downtown Bay St. Louis "comfort station" for tourists is on the drawing boards.
City officials hope to build the facility on property behind the City Hall Annex, accessed off Main Street, attracting several busloads of tourists weekly.
Bay St. Louis City Council asked architect Kevin Fitzpatrick to produce conceptual drawings for the facility.
Council President James Thriffiley said bus tour companies are interested in making Bay St. Louis a regular stop -- but they won't do so unless the city has public restroom facilities available. With 30 to 40 passengers per bus, the city could see a significant tourism infusion, he said.
Hopefully, the tourists would take the opportunity to eat and shop in town, he said. The facility also could serve as a trolley stop, but isn't envisioned to be a park-and-ride facility for the transit system.
In other action Tuesday, City Council agreed to give its administrative staff members $300 annual clothing allowances to buy uniforms. Mayor Eddie Favre said the action doesn't bind the city for future years.
Officials said the uniforms would help the public identify city employees, much like bank employees are readily recognizable on the job.
In an unrelated matter, several council members asked that the bank lettering on City Hall Annex be removed, since the building has been purchased by the city.
Council members James Rutherford and Thriffiley opposed removing the bank lettering, but council members Tad Black, Charles Scianna and Tom Farve voted for it.
In another split vote, council adopted a new policy concerning public bid openings. In the past, all bids have been opened at City Council meetings.
But based on an attorney general's ruling, council authorized Mayor Favre to open bids and report the offerings at subsequent council meetings. Favre said he would conduct bid openings publicly at City Hall Annex, so bidders and the press can attend.
Scianna opposed the policy shift.
In other matters, the council agreed to hire James Chiniche to bolster city engineering efforts to resolve a major problem with a residential area drainage ditch.
Residents of the Hancock Heights area, including Dunbar, Felicity, Engman, Jackson and Corinth streets, were at Tuesday's meeting to urge city action on the problem. Residents said what is supposed to be a 15-foot-wide drainage ditch has eroded to a width of 30 to 45 feet in some areas, threatening trees and buildings.

Correction

In a story printed Sunday, March 6, 1994, about the March 1 meeting of the Waveland Board of Aldermen, the following clarification should be noted.

The article should have stated that the city of Waveland leased the Waveland Treatment Plant to the now Southern Regional Wastewater Management District in 1982, not to the city.

The term of the lease was to cover the period necessary to pay outstanding bonds allocable to the treatment plant. The amount of the lease is for the exact amount of the payments necessary to pay off the bonds which were outstanding in 1982.

The lease cannot be renegotiated. At the end of the lease the city will turn over title to the district for the sum of $1.

Between 1982 and the present date, the plant's capacity was doubled from 500,000 gallons to approximately 2.5 million gallons. Bay St. Louis and Hancock County both paid their proportionate share of the increase.

The current construction of the plant will increase its capacity to 4.5-million gallons per day.

The Sea Coast Echo regrets the error.

Scafile said Tuesday, however, environmental officials are concerned about sea grass vegetation in part of the renourishment's path. Scafile said it may be necessary to eliminate about 2,000 feet of the project, leaving it open for fishing in lieu of beach-going.

But, he said, they may be able to add an additional 2,300 feet to the project, including a 1,300-foot segment at Clermont Harbor and 1,000 feet in front of the park.

Officials said the exact dimensions of changes will have to be determined by further inspections of the areas at issue.

Meanwhile, Mitchell said as soon as the pumping begins, officials will know the rate of sand loss that will occur from the pit to the shore. There is concern that there won't be enough sand in the pit to complete the entire project.

Mitchell also said project officials are being required to monitor segments of the beach as a habitat for least terns.

BOATS IN THE WAY

As the project heads for the construction phase, Mitchell expressed concern that owners of a number of small sailboats haven't responded to notices to remove the craft. His efforts to locate the owners have not been successful, and suggested that the county may have to move the boats.

Board Attorney Gerald Gex didn't like that idea, saying the county could be left open to damage claims from boat owners. Mitchell said it would be worse if workers "bury" the boats in sand.

On a related matter, Gex was authorized to notify property owners who need to remove sections of their piers which abut the seawall.

Supervisor Robert Peterson

several times raised the issue of fencing along the newly-replenished areas, to prevent wind loss of the new sand. Mitchell said some areas of the project would be particularly vulnerable to such loss, and he recommended fencing.

Area planners, he said, are investigating what help may be available with that aspect of the project.

Peterson, meanwhile, also is concerned about the need for immediate work on drainage problems and collapsing segments of the seawall.

"I don't feel like we're coordinated properly" on the project he said, adding that foul-ups could be "embarrassing" later on.

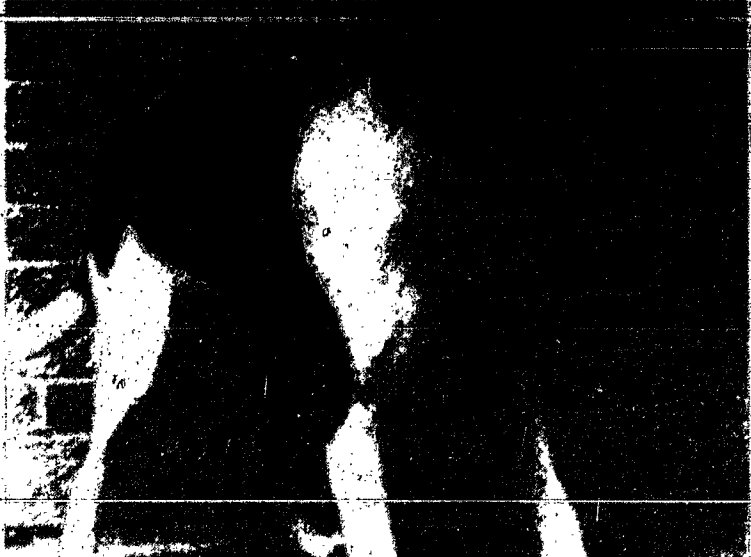

Supervisors got an update on a related project: the Corps of Engineers' emergency repairs along two stretches of seawall. Plans call for a timber bulkhead along a 1,000-foot segment of the shore just south of the Highway 90 bridge, and new riprap revetments for some 1,400 feet near Vacation Lane and Market Street in Waveland. County officials plan other emergency repairs to sections of the seawall not covered by the Corps project.

Johnny Grandison, project manager for the Corps project, said the construction should start in July and take about three months to complete. Peterson lamented that schedule would hit during peak tourism season.

When Grandison offered to postpone construction until the fall, Peterson and other supervisors declined the offer.

"Dog-gone it, let's get with the program," said Board President Michael Ladner.

"The sooner the better," added Supervisor Alton Kellar.

ON PATROL

SHOOTING

A Bayside Park man is being charged with aggravated assault after a domestic dispute in front of his house Saturday night, according to Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Glen Strong.

Strong said Wayne A. Cornell, 25, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested around 10 p.m. March 5, after allegedly firing eight .22 caliber rifle shots into a van driven by Jerry Babineaux and carrying two others.

According to Strong, three of the shots entered the van, but there were no injuries.

Strong said Cornell appeared to be hiding in the bushes near his house on Bayside Drive when the van, driven by Babineaux, stopped at his house. Strong said there had apparently been an on-going domestic dispute between the parties involved.

Cornell is being held in the Hancock County Jail under $5,000 bond.

Residents said the erosion began after a ditch-cleaning project several years ago left the banks cut improperly.

Thrillily promised an expedited study of the problem, saying the "width of the ditch is ridiculous."

Council took no action on a report from attorney John Scafile concerning contamination at the CSX depot site. Environmental assessment studies found "minute," but unacceptable, levels of some metals in ground water at the site. Officials said the initial studies would be re-run to double check.

The city wants to buy the old depot and transform it into a transportation hub.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Don't forget the big annual Waveland Civic Association St. Patrick's Day parade scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday.

The parade forms on Waveland Avenue next to the playground beginning at 1 p.m.

Jay Lagasse, president of the Waveland Civic Association, indicates the parade this year should be the club's largest.

This will mark the 30th year for the Civic Association's parade, and it will also mark a first with royalty.

The Grand Marshal is Jay Fountain of Waveland, and the Colleen is his daughter, Jessica Fountain.

There are many floats, marching groups, individuals, etc. already signed up for the annual event.

Civic Association members have been very busy preparing for the parade and are looking forward to a large number of spectators.

There should be an abundant supply of trinkets, cups and beads thrown, along with cabbages.

The parade is the time when Waveland's residents become Irish, if only for a day.

Cabbage has become a prized collection item in recent years. Many will have cabbage for a meal after the parade.

The parade winds through Waveland beginning at Waveland and Central avenues, Waveland to Coleman Avenue, Coleman to Beach Boulevard, Beach to Lafitte Drive, Lafitte to Central, Central to Coleman to disband.

As an annual event, the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Auxiliary Unit 77 will have its corned beef and cabbage dinner, Irish stew and hot dogs beginning at 11 a.m. at the post home on Coleman Avenue.

After the parade, corned beef sandwiches will be sold. Proceeds from the food sales by the auxiliary will be used to continue the auxiliary's programs to provide services to veterans, children and youth and fund Girls State scholarship programs.

A donation of $4 is for corned beef and cabbage; $3.50 for Irish stew with rice; and $1 for hot dog and chili. Just in case it rains, Lagasse reports the rain day will be Sunday at 2 p.m.

Lagasse is hoping there will not be any snow this year.

I hope to see you at the parade Saturday afternoon.

Playing 'possum

Otis Winnard found what he called the biggest he'd ever seen, a 17-pound opossum on the back porch of his house at 502 North Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis. Winnard said the opossum was lurking around a cat box and catfood his wife had put out for their nine cats. He said they had only seen five of the cats lately and they wouldn't go near the box or food where the opossum had been caught. (Echo staff photo by Amy Pickich)

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI HOUSE

Funding for Pearl River project sought

A strong effort to ensure that funding is available for restoration of water flow to the east Pearl River in South Mississippi has been launched by House of Representatives members from Pearl River County.

The House approved an amendment March 7 aimed at helping the state obtain federal funds for construction of a water diversion project on the lower east Pearl River, beginning at the Wilson Slough Breakout down through the Farris Slough and Holmes Bayou to the Hobolochitto Creek. The amendment was jointly sponsored by Representatives Herb Frierson, Harry Frierson and Mark Formby.

Sponsors said the proposal would ensure that up to $4 million would be available from certain bond proceeds if the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers receives approval for the project and federal funds are authorized.

The Pearl River County lawmakers succeeded in getting the amendment placed in a Senate bill which originally called for an increase in maximum funding available for the joint Mississippi-Louisiana Estuarine Areas Project. The bill must return to the Senate for concurrence.

Citizens of the area were urged by the House members to contact their state senators to encourage them to support the proposal.

"If the bill wins final legislative approval and is signed by the Governor, the state will have done all it could do to solve the problem. Then it would be up to our Washington delegation to get the federal money," said Formby, who represents District 108 in Pearl River County.

Frierson, whose district includes portions of Lamar, Forrest and Pearl River, said the project is badly needed to deal with a long-pending problem involving water flow on a portion of the Pearl River.

Frierson said, "The project would prevent saltwater intrusion to the mouth of the river, enhance boat traffic, provide for restoration of vital wetlands, and improve the harvest of fin and shellfish in Lake Bourgne and Heron Bay." He represents portions of Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone counties.

REPORT FROM THE SENATE

Educators rally at the Capitol

The ninth week of the 1994 legislative session was divided between meeting a major deadline and debating bills on the Senate floor.

Educators rallied at the Capitol early in the week to emphasize the importance of bills containing teacher pay raises, fully-funded health insurance for all public school employees, appointed superintendents and other reform programs.

Far-reaching education bills such as Senate Bill 2862 failed to meet the March 1 deadline due to a deadlock between the Education Committees in both Houses.

Changes in the way Mississippi pays for schools caused a lack of action from the House Education Committee. In turn, the Senate Education Committee did not act on House bills concerning the same topics as contained in the by-passed Senate bill.

A senate resolution has been introduced to suspend the rules to further consider Senate Bill 2862; a two-thirds vote of both bodies can revive the education bills.

LOBBY REFORM

Lobby reform once again was addressed by the Senate and is closer to becoming a reality. The approved version of the House bill requires all lobbyists to detail spending on public officials holding state, city or county offices.

Present law requires a lobbyist to report monies spent on each lawmaker over the $25 threshold on each occasion.

SENTENCING OPTION

The Senate also passed a bill allowing a third sentencing option for a case involving a capital offense. Defendants could be sentenced to a life term without parole. Presently, the two options for a jury are death or life imprisonment with eligibility for parole in ten years.

The Senate extended the latter option to require that 20 years be served before possibility of parole.

PAROLE BOARD

House Bill 1013 was introduced to abolish the five-member Parole Board and create a three-member board. The senate's amended version would abolish the Parole Board completely after June 30, 1996.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

Counties and municipalities can make capital improvements including construction and repairs with help from a revolving loan program in House Bill 715 administered by the Department of Economic and Community Development.

Loans could be made available at a rate of interest not to exceed 1 percent beginning Jan. 1, 1995. Repayment of loans is due within 20 years from the date the project is completed.

BINGO LAWS

The Senate version of House Bill 1309 revises bingo laws. Charitable organizations are allowed to conduct five-hour bingo sessions eight times a week or one six-hour session per week.

Pull-tab or video bingo games can only be played a maximum of forty hours per week during times regulated by the Mississippi Gaming Commission.

Prizes awarded cannot go over the $7,500 limit in cash or other things of value. No person under 18 may conduct bingo games and must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian to play bingo.

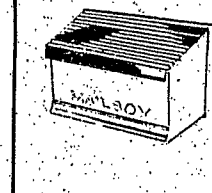

Licenses can expect routine scheduled and unscheduled inspections, investigations and audits.

Other action taken by the Senate includes: authorizing the use of theft alarms on any vehicle; equip school buses with white, flashing strobe lights; register persons paid by customers to draw tattoos with health department; allow trust funds for church maintenance; provide for testing and educational remediation for dyslexia and related disorders; and advertise any proposed ad valorem tax increase.

March 10 is the deadline for the Senate to consider general bills and constitutional amendments which originated in the House.

During the 1994 session Senator Bill Johnson may be reached at P. O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215 or by calling 359-3770.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Auto makers are missing an opportunity

Dear Editor,

It has come to my attention, cars and trucks are now being made without ashtrays and cigarette lighters.

Because fewer people are using them, the demand is lower. This also lowers the cost of the vehicle.

The auto makers are missing a marketing opportunity in southern Mississippi.

Cars and trucks in this area need not have turn signals or more than one headlight. This one headlight should be permanently set on high beam.

Hwy. 603 is an area where I noticed the local preference for this type of vehicle. The high number of accidents is probably just a coincidence.

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month

Dear Editor:

I am writing to ask for your help in an effort to heighten community awareness of the severe problem of child abuse in the South Mississippi area.

April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month and, therefore, a good time for the media to join with our local efforts to educate the public about this tragedy.

The South Mississippi Family Child Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse opened in October 1988. Its primary purpose is to help prevent child abuse with the use of professionally trained and supervised volunteers working with families "at risk" as well as with families where abuse has occurred.

The center is one of a network of 60 Exchange Club Child Abuse Prevention Centers in over 30 states and one in Puerto Rico coordinated by the National Exchange Club Foundation for the Prevention of Child Abuse.

Through the efforts of this foundation over 6,000 children have been served. The use of volunteers is necessary due to the rising numbers of reported cases of abuse and neglect.

When trained and supervised, they become effective in the preventative process.

The Family Child Center provides services to the residents of the 12 counties making up South Mississippi. We are constantly recruiting volunteers who are interested in helping to prevent child abuse in our communities.

Since this program is unique to the South Mississippi area, a story would be of interest to your readers.

If you are interested in doing a feature about this program, please call me at 868-8686 or feel free to come by our main office at 4803 Harrison Circle, Gulfport.

Please remember that our children are our greatest asset, and that together we can strive to prevent them from the tragedy of child abuse.

Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Bridget Logan

Seal said Wednesday he had posted a 6,000-pound weight limit on the bridge, which is some 18 feet above the Catahoula. He was authorized by the board to draft plans for repairs.

Supervisors briefly discussed plans to apply for a $450,000 sewer grant for the Pearlington area, and agreed to discuss it further at a workshop today. Supervisor Alton Kellar said Rep. Gene Taylor is assisting in a search for emergency sewer grant funds.

In other matters, supervisors agreed to advertise a road-paving project in McLeod Park. Park officials said gate revenues will be sufficient to pay costs of the project, estimated at some $25,000.

The board also agreed to lend county assistance to construction of the Scott Demboski Soccerplex off Longfellow Road. In addition to advice from the county engineer, the board pledged 400 yards of clay gravel for the complex's road.

Officials of Hancock Medical Center received approval to increase the center's line of credit with Hancock Bank from $200,000 to $850,000. The action doesn't obligate the county financially.

Hancock Medical Center is advertising for bids to expand its outpatient and surgical facilities, a project expected to cost some $1.2 million. Center officials say the savings realized by refinancing the hospital's 1985 revenue bonds will be sufficient to pay off the expansion project. Meanwhile, however, expanding the line of credit allows for temporary financing of the expansion.

Marina

he wasn't aware that the easement touched the marina's landing. The alignment of the easement apparently didn't touch the landing originally, but was changed before the board took final action on it last month.

Milton Beckendorff said the easement was to the east of the ramp originally, but was changed at the request of Board attorney Gerald Gex. "It was what they all asked us to do," Beckendorff said of the shift.

"We have people diligently working to get things together," Vaughn said of potential development. "...But we can't go out and market the property unless we have an easement."

At the suggestion of Supervisor Robert Peterson, the board agreed to relocate the boat launch within 180 days of a sale of the Beckendorff property. Vaughn said such a pledge is sufficient to reinstate the easement's use.

Meanwhile, Coast Transit Authority Director Tom Hern told the board that Jubilee Casino officials would like to have service extended to the Bayou Caddy area. Supervisors made no promises to pick up the tab for such a service, but suggested Hern return to the board with costs of a trial run.

Hern briefed the board on upcoming expansions of service within the existing system, effective April 10, including a direct link between Bay St. Louis and Gulfport, without a change in Pass Christian.

The Diamondhead Community Church's "Little School" is also accepting registrations for the 1994-95 school year. The hours of operation are from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday and the fee is $35. jected." Hurray! The general manager's report is that "our grounds, including medians and around the country club have never been more beautiful." Applause, applause to our grounds maintenance crew, headed by Andy Borja, for the excellent job of new plantings and maintenance of the lawn areas, and to "Shorty" who is always working hard to keep our "Paradise" looking great, even on holidays and Sundays.

DIAMONDHEAD NEWCOMERS

At the February board meeting, president Pat Outlaw and the board members voted yes to establish a motto for the club. "Friendship, Fellowship and Fun" seems a perfect way to describe this fun organization of "wild and crazy ladies." THOUGHTS TO SHARE

Life is a journey and not a home, a road, not a city of habitation. And the enjoyments and blessings we have along the way are but little inns on the roadside, where we may be refreshed for a moment, that we may with new strength press on to the goal. Every worthwhile accomplishment, big or little, has its stages of drudgery and triumph; a beginning, a struggle, and a victory. A few wise friends with whom to counsel, a few good books to read and absorb, and with courage and faith we are well equipped for the facing of life's difficulties and disappointments, as well as its pleasures and successes. Lives are made of chapters. After one is written it cannot be revised, but we can write a new chapter with each new day. Wishing you all many "new days." Happy Spring!

St. Francisville gardens tour offered by Crosby Arboretum

Join noted landscape architect and author Neil Odenwald on a special guided tour of three gardens in St. Francisville, La. Odenwald, professor of landscape architecture at Louisiana State University, is author of Live Oak Splendor, Attracting Birds to Southern Gardens and Southern Plants for Landscape Design. He will tour three historical gardens: Rosedown Plantation, Afton Villa Gardens and Oakley House. Rosedown Plantation and Gardens was built in 1935 by wealthy cotton planters Martha and Daniel Turnbull. The plantation garden was planted in the French style and inspired from tours in Europe. The garden includes oak avenues, parterre gardens, Carrara marble statues and a glorious display of flower beds.

Afton Villa Gardens is a unique "ruins" garden. Earlier this century, the mansion home was destroyed by fire and the gardens were planted within the ruins of the home. The last tour is at the Audubon State Commemorative Area, which features Oakley House, a residence in which John James Audubon had briefly stayed and painted within. The 100-acre woodland site includes a formal garden, a plantation barn, slave cabins and a nature trail. The visit will include a tour of the 1806 classic revival house, which has been restored in the style of the late Federal Period (1790-1830). After the tour, registrants are invited to visit four other attractions that are part of that weekend's Audubon Pilgrimage without additional cost. The tour will be Saturday, March 19 and costs $35 per person. (Crosby Arboretum members receive a $5 discount). A box lunch will be included in the registration price. Participants will meet at 9 a.m. at the Rosedown visitor parking area. To register, call Nelda Lee at 601-799-2311 by March 15. A packet of maps and instructions will be mailed to each registrant.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

In my growing-up days, long years ago, when Lenten rules were quite strict, we could barely wait for St. Patrick's Day and for St. Joseph's Day following after, for on these days we were released from Lenten rigors and could feast to our hearts' and appetites' content!

St. Patrick's Day and St. Joseph's Day are still highlights of the lenten season, aren't they? Sp, let's get busy! Every one's Irish at heart on St. Patrick's Day! And whether you plan the Irish-American style menu of corned beef and cabbage, or the "Auld Sod" traditional repast of salmon, smoked or otherwise, let's top off the meal with a cheering cup or mug of Irish Coffee as we all hail St. Pat.

And, let's stir up, perhaps, a batch of Irish Soda Bread, considered among the finer kind of bread in the world. It's easy to do and makes its appearance in Ireland's castles and cottages without fail at the high tea or "tay" which in many homes constitutes the evening meal.

In fact, many a good housewife in Ireland would feel disgraced if she offered a visitor fewer than three or four kinds of her home-baked breads, as well as fresh-from-the-oven cake along with a "cuppa," at least. That's the way it was in other days, according to a note one of my great-great-whatever grandmothers or aunt wrote in the margin of a "receipt" for soda bread long ago.

I like to serve traditional Irish Soda Bread, sliced thin and spread with butter at tea time or other times as well. Some cooks prefer a slightly different version, with raisins; others use currants. Anyway, here's my family's version:

DALY'S IRISH SODA BREAD

- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 Tbsp. butter or margarine
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1 cup buttermilk, approximately. See note below.

Rub the butter into the flour, then add the salt and soda, mixing all well together by running these dry ingredients through your fingers. Add the buttermilk and stir into a soft but firm dough with a wooden spoon. With floured hands, knead lightly into a ball and turn out on a thickly floured baking sheet.

Flatten the dough into a circle approximately an inch and a half thick, using the palm of your hand. With a floured knife, make a cross in the center, so that the loaf won't break in baking. Brush with milk, and bake at 425 degrees for 30 or 40 minutes or until it sounds hollow when tapped, and serve with almost anything you wish!

Traditionally, this loaf was baked in a heavy skillet, but you may use any round or flat pan, preferably one well-darkened through use. Also, traditionally, long ago, the soda bread was made with freshly-milled flour, freshly-churned buttermilk, and baked over a brisk fire in the "bastable oven," a heavy, heavy, three-legged black iron pot. This was used at hearthside as well as over the fire, depending upon what was being cooked. For a sweeter soda bread, mix in a half cup or a little more of raisins and a tablespoon of sugar if you like.

Note: The amount of buttermilk needed will vary with the humidity, as on damp days the flour absorbs moisture from the atmosphere, so less is needed in the dough. Start with a little less than a cup and add as you need to make a rather firm but not stiff dough.

FEW OF THEM THEY TOLD ME I WAS NOT HAVING A HEART ATTACK."

Six years ago, I had a heart attack and didn't even know it for three months. I went to Memorial for tests and then I was fine. So last year when I began to feel an irregular pulse beat, I did not wait. When I got to Memorial's Chest Pain Emergency Department, they had equipment ready immediately to monitor my symptoms. It only took them about five minutes to know that I was not having a heart attack...rather a condition involving an irregular heart beat that is treatable with medication. I was so relieved...and amazed how fast and how efficiently they took care of me.

—Dick Schoenick,
Sales Representative

There is absolutely no warning signals of a heart attack. If you are experiencing any of them, you may need help fast. Early diagnosis and treatment provided right here at Memorial's comprehensive Cardiovascular Center may minimize potential heart damage, may even avert a heart attack.

Mike Hammond hits a single in a St. Stanislaus junior varsity victory over crosstown rival Bay High Monday night at BHS. The Rocks won 8-1.

Tigers squeeze by Rocks

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Bay High Tigers defeated their crosstown rivals St. Stanislaus in baseball action Monday 3-2.

In a heated contest of rivalry, the Tigers came out victorious—but not without a fight. The Rocks opened the scoring with George Kerner scoring on a Ben Williams squeeze.

Bay High came back with a run when James Benton scored off a Mark Dupuy double.

SSC's Tee Bergeron doubled and Chris McQueen came in to pinch run for the pitcher. George Kerner batted in McQueen to end the Rocks scoring with two runs.

Bay High started their quest for victory in the fourth when Luke Weems walked, Bennie Murphy singled and Raleigh Murphy doubled, batting in Weems to tie the score 2-2.

In the next inning, Jonathan Favre reached on an error by the shortstop. Sam Sheppard had a single that batted in Favre for the winning run.

Mark Dupuy struck out 14 batters for Bay High and has 24 K's for the year. He has two wins on the year. Luke Weems leads the Tigers in batting with .625 average while going 5 for 8 on the year and has 4 RBI's.

Sam Sheppard is batting .333, has 4 stolen bases, and 4 RBI's. Bennie Murphy, Raleigh Murphy and Mark Dupuy are all batting .308 for the year.

BHS Coach Fred Weems said, "We happened to win the ballgame tonight. Mark's (Dupuy) curve was on and that helped a lot. Stanislaus has a talented team and they were well coached tonight. They will be a team to be reckoned with."

SSC's Troy Schwant went 2 for 3 with a double against Bay High and is batting .400 to tie for the team leader in that category.

George Kerner had an all-around performance against the Tigers going 2 for 3 with a double, 3 stolen bases, 1 RBI, and 1 run scored. Matt Wilty had a strong defensive showing at first base.

Coach Tim Burns stated, "This was a tough one to lose. This is the second time in as many games that we have lost by one run. Now it's time to bounce back and get ready for Hancock on Friday."

The Tigers are 3-3 and 1-0 in the district. Bay High travels to Pearl River Central on Friday for a district contest.

SSC is 1-6 and 0-2 in the district. The Rocks travel to Hancock on Friday for a district meeting with the Hawks.

Game time for both teams is 7 p.m.

Rocks drop three over weekend

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus baseball team suffered a three-game losing streak over the weekend. The Rocks dropped a district contest to the East Central Hornets on Friday and lost two games on Saturday. The Rocks dropped the first game to Biloxi and barely got nipped by Brandon in the second game of the day.

In a 12-7 loss to East Central, each team scored a run in the opening stanza. The Hornets exploded for six runs in the top scoring for the evening at 12 runs.

The Rocks mounted a comeback scoring a run in the fourth and the fifth. The Rocks came alive in the bottom of the final stanza scoring four runs but not enough to take the lead. The final score ended 12-7.

Matt Helms went 2 for 4 with a double and 2 RBI's. Ben Williams also had 2 RBI's on the night going 1 for 4.

In Biloxi on Saturday, the Rocks did not perform to par, losing 10-1 to the Indians.

The Rocks did not get on the board till the fifth inning when David Manasco scored off an RBI single by Ben Williams. Correy Gex tallied the other hit for the Rocks going 1 for 3 on the game.

The Rocks only gave up two hits on the afternoon but gave up 7 errors.

Coach Tim Burns stated, "Considering the amount of errors we committed, the kids played a good game. We need to cut down on our errors."

In the second game of the day against Brandon High, the Rocks came to play. Brandon, the ninth ranked team in the state, got a real scare from the Rocks. The Rocks ended up dropping the game 7-6, but not without some excitement.

The score remained tied throughout the game. Going into the final at-bat for Brandon, they scored the go ahead run to take the lead and the victory 7-6.

The Rocks were unable to score in their last at-bat.

Ben Williams, who is leading the Rocks in batting with a .412 average, went 2 for 4 with 2 RBI's for the game.

Tee Bergeron went 2 for 4 and scoring a run. David Manasco scored 2 runs and had an RBI while going for 1 for 4.

Correy Gex, Matt Wilty, and George Kerner each went 1 for 3 in the game. Nathan Middleton went 1 for 2 and scored a run.

of the third inning and SSC answered with a run in the bottom of the third making the score 7-2.

The Hornets added three more runs in the fourth and two in the fifth concluding their Biloxi opened the scoring with authority garnering 2 runs in the opening stanza and adding 6 runs in the second. The Indians concluded their bombardment with 2 runs in the third to total 10.

PRC ready for division play

Pearl River Community College, defending South Division baseball champs, lost two of three games to Okaloosa Walton, Fla. this past weekend to go 4-10 overall.

Now it's time to start division play, and PRC coach Jim Nightengale is more than happy.

"We have struggled here in the early going," said Nightengale. "We have been fighting for our lives."

Nightengale opened the 1994 year with a couple of wins over nationally-ranked Pensacola, Fla., but since that time the road trips have been rough and tough.

"We are in the part of the season that really counts," said Nightengale. "It's time we step things up a notch or two."

Nightengale has used a two-team platoon system so far this year. That will stop now that division games are on the line.

"We'll have our best nine on the field," said the PRC coach, who led the Wildcats to the playoffs five of the last six years.

Nightengale said he was pleased with his pitching staff, but fielding errors have haunted his team all year. "We have to stop beating ourselves," said Nightengale.

The Wildcats beat Okaloosa Walton 6-3, but lost 12-2 and 3-2.

Southwest was on tap for Tuesday at Summit with the Wildcats' home opener set for Thursday, March 10 at 1 p.m. against North Division Holmes. PRC will entertain Co-Lin Saturday at 1 p.m.

The Wildcats will play Jackson State at home Thursday, March 17.

Reisch performs at SEC Indoor Championships

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

Chris Reisch of Bay St. Louis helped his Ole Miss teammates with a sixth place finish at the Southeastern Conference Indoor Track and Field Championships in the 200m dash.

The February 26-27 championships were held on the campus of the University of Florida in Gainesville.

Reisch, a junior, came into the finals unranked and finished sixth with a time of 21:73. He also ran the 400m leg of the distance medley relay, which finished fifth at the championships. His 400m leg split was 51:2.

Ole Miss finished sixth in the team standings with 44 points. The Rebels finished 5 points behind the host team Florida and 1 point ahead of South Carolina. Arkansas won the team competition with 158 points.

Reisch is a 1990 graduate of St. Stanislaus, where he was state 4A champion in the 100m and 200m dashes. He currently owns SSC's school records in the 100m and 200m dashes and three Ole Miss records.

SSC tracksters place second

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaw track team opened the 1994 season and bid for the Division 8 Class 4A crown with a second place finish at a March 4 triangle meet.

The meet was held at the SSC stadium with d'Iberville and Pass High participating.

d'Iberville won the varsity meet with 69 points; SSC garnered 66 points, and Pass High finished third with 38 points. The Rocks and d'Iberville were tied at 64 each going into the last event, the 1600m relay. d'Iberville won the event and the meet while SSC placed third in the event and fell three points shy of the victory.

d'Iberville Junior High won the junior high division with 75 points followed by SSC with 45 points and Pass High tallied 13 points.

In junior high action, Mike Mancuso won the 1600m run with a time of 5:16.9s, Arthur Eagen won the 400m dash with a time of 58.3s, Kippy Chamberlain won the 800m run with a time of 2:21.8s, and the SSC 1600m relay team won with a time of 4:13.0s.

In varsity action, Brandon Benoit was a double winner in the long jump and the triple jump. Benoit jumped 19'10" and 39'2", respectively. Vince Moran, the defending state 4A champion, high jumped 6'8".

Neil Heitzmann won the 400m dash with a time of 53.01s. Todd Black won the pole vault with a vault of 13'0".

Eugene Schmitt won the 300 Intermediate Hurdles with a time of 45.1s. The SSC 800m relay team placed first with a time of 1:37.4s. Peter Martinez won the discus with a throw of 116'6".

In the premier race of the day, the "fat-man dash," SSC's Allen Schaefer won the race with a time of 12.6s.

Coach Larry Ramsey said, "Our junior high had a good showing. Derek Bradley turned in a good all around performance in the 100m, long jump, and the relays. Mike Mancuso showed lots of promise. Our brightest spot was the showing of Arthur Eagen in the 400m dash. However, this is our first meet of the season and we have a long way to go. The kids have to train to win."

He continued, "On the varsity level, we had many good first time performances. But we still have a long row to hoe. We are not as strong as we used to be in past years. We are going to have to beat people in training and technique."

"We will have to get every edge that we can to win. We will have to train, train, train. The kids are going to have to work for it this year. Six in a row sounds good, but seven sounds even better."

Special to the Echo
By Mark Koch
It is time again for the Triple Crown. No, I am not talking about the horse race, but there will be some real "horses" in these races.

Three of the oldest 10K road races between New Orleans and Mobile kick off in less than three weeks from now, the 17th Annual Azalea Trail Run March 26 in Mobile, the 16th Annual Crescent City Classic April 16 in New Orleans, and the 16th Annual Gulf Coast Classic in Biloxi on April 30.

Some of the world's best runners will step up to the line in Mobile for the Azalea Trail Run. The Kenyans will be there in force along with the top Mexican and American athletes.

The course will take the runners on a tour of Mobile under 100-year-old live oaks, past beautiful antebellum homes, Southern bells, large spectator crowds and finish at the Mobile Civic Center for a great post race expo, food and fun.

The Crescent City Classic draws 30,000 plus runners to the Crescent City for a point-to-point race starting at historic Jackson Square, winding its way through the streets of the Big Easy to finish at Audubon Park. The race draws all sorts of participants from the elite athlete to the once-a-year runners and walkers.

By the time the winner crosses the finish line, the last of the walkers will be just getting to the 2-mile mark of the course. The course is one of the fastest in the U.S. Both world and American records have been set on this course.

After the race, the second biggest party in New Orleans starts and does not finish till the jambalaya and the tap runs out.

Located between New Orleans and Mobile is the site for the third jewel of the Triple Crown, Biloxi.

The Gulf Coast Classic, a much smaller race, brings runners to the Coast for a great get-away weekend. This race starts

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Coast Guard is there in times of need on water

It's time to go fishin' y'all. The activity on the saltwater scene lately has been somewhat poor. In fact, the word "poor" is an understatement. Lousy would probably be a better descriptive choice.
There does seem to be a bright spot to the saltwater scene in the Mississippi Sound. Now is the time you can explore all of the fishing areas around the Sound at a cheap price tag.
Matter of fact, you will find that right now you can do this without using any boat gas at all. You see, according to Tommy Bodge, "the Sound is so muddy that you do not need a boat, you can walk wherever you want to go on the mud."

He further stated, when he brought a boat back from Biloxi this past week, he started to encounter the muddy water just west of the Gulfport ship channel. A plane that flew over the Chandeleur Islands reported the muddy water was all the way out to the Chandeleur Islands. Hopefully, when the water does finally clear up, there will be plenty of nutrients on the bottom to make the fish grow bigger faster. You just gotta look on the bright side of all this stuff!
The freshwater scene is another story entirely. Almost anyone who has gone freshwater fishing lately is returning to say they are putting the he-bee on the bass and bream. The secret in freshwater is similar to the saltwater scene. You gotta find clean water. If you can find the clear water you will catch fish.
Got some really important tips and stuff from the Coast Guard that I need to pass on to the fishin' buddies. You see, fishing is fun but sometimes it becomes not so much fun. This is especially true if you are out in the middle of Nowhereville and your motor decides it is gonna go on strike. That can be a problem, especially if there are storms starting to kick up in the area.

Or, if you also have a hole in the bottom of your boat. Or, if your wife suddenly decides to give birth to your first child, right now, on the boat, or all of the above.
The Coast Guard has the following tips on getting help on the water: The marine environment is unforgiving. What may initially be a minor problem can rapidly develop into a situation

If your situation is not a distress, simply call Coast Guard Channel 16 VHF/FM and/or 2182 khz HF/SSB. These channels are monitored all of the time. The citizens band is not dependable and is not monitored at most Coast Guard stations.

If you do not have a radio, attempt to signal a fellow mariner who can assist or call the Coast Guard for you. In a distress situation, use flares or other distress signaling devices to catch the attention of another boater.
Once you get the Coast Guard on the line they will ask you your location; exact nature of the problem; number of people on board; description of your boat; safety equipment on board; your boat name and registration, and special problems.

Now this might seem like they want to know all of your personal business. But, remember, there is a lot of water out there and a lot of boats, so the more information you can give them the faster they will be able to locate you.

When you contact the Coast Guard for a problem, you should call back at regular intervals and when help arrives. However, if a medical emergency develops, or a storm approaches, or you begin to take on water, or your last reported position changes, these are conditions that could cause alarm and you need to contact the Coast Guard back at once.
There are times when you have a problem that is not life-threatening. In that case, Channel 16 VHF/FM or the marine operator might be the best route to take.
Here are some tips on non-distress assistance that the Coast Guard suggests you consider before you accept any assistance:
Large physical stresses can occur in towing and salvage operations, risking damage to one or both boats and personal injury.
Does the provider have the proper equipment to handle your problem safely?
Can the crew handle the situation safely, given the conditions and the nature of the problem?
If a fee is being asked, does the operator have a Coast Guard license and insurance? (All operators must have licenses if they charge for towing services).

One of the most important ways to avoid problems on the water is to prevent them in the first place. Very simply put — take care of your equipment, think safety, and your equipment will take care of you.

If you need more information on this subject, call the Boating Safety Hotline, 1-800-368-5647.

This week's wonderful, wise words: To avoid a boating emergency when your wife is overdue, it is usually best not to go fishing during this time.

Fire escape plans
save family lives

I was reading in the newspaper just this morning that another Hancock County resident has lost a home and business to fire. It's an unfortunate and tragic fact of life for all too many families.

Prevention of home fires is your responsibility since no house can be made completely fireproof. It is best to try to keep fires from starting in your home, but being prepared or knowing what to do in case fire breaks out can mean the difference between life and death.

The time to prepare for fire survival is before a fire — not after one. It is one thing to know about fire survival practices; it is another to perform them under the stress of an actual fire.

Make sure everyone sleeps with their bedroom door closed at night. A closed door can delay the spread of fire and keep out deadly gases and smoke for the few extra minutes needed to escape.

Draw out a floor plan. Mark an escape route from each room.

Pay particular attention to the bedroom since nighttime fires are usually the most serious.

Have an alternate route available, such as a window, from each room because you can never count on using a stairway or hall.

Very young children, invalids and elderly people should receive careful consideration when mapping out family escape plans. These groups will need special assistance in escaping from home fires. Appoint appropriate family members to aid those needing help.

Agree on a way any member of the family can sound an alarm. Fire may block hallways and prevent you from reaching other bedrooms. Pound on a wall, yell, use a whistle or any other method that will awaken members of the family who are asleep.

Instruct family members not to waste time getting dressed or collecting prized possessions. Speed is essential in escaping from a fire.

Make sure every family member knows how to test a door. If the panels or knob are warm, keep the door closed and use an alternate escape route.

If not, brace a foot and hip against the door and open cautiously to prevent super-heated air from blowing it open. If not hot air or smoke greets you, it is probably safe to pass through.

If you are forced to remain in a room, stay near a slightly opened window. Place towels or cloths in the door cracks. To reach the other side of a smoke-filled room, crawl with your head about 18 inches above the floor.

Decide on a meeting place outside the house where everyone will assemble as soon as they are outside.

Call the fire department as soon as everyone is out of the house. Use a neighbor's phone or a call alarm box. Speak clearly, making sure you give your full name and address.

Hold a practice drill once you have set up escape routes, and then repeat drills periodically.

MMA offers scholarship for senior

The Mississippi Municipal Association is sponsoring a scholarship open to all high school seniors in the state who plan to attend a Mississippi institution of higher learning in the fall of 1994.

The $1,000 award will be deposited to the winning student's account at the community college, college, or university of his or her choice.

Application forms and posters have been mailed to each public and private high school in the state. In addition to the brief application, each student is asked to write an essay of not more than 1,000 words on "Why I Should Consider A Career in Municipal Government."

Application deadline is March 31. For more information or an application, call the Mississippi Municipal Association at 353-5854 or 1-800-325-7641.

"The purpose of this scholarship is to educate more of our young people about the many rewarding careers in municipal government. We encourage all students planning to further their education to consider applying for this scholarship. We look forward to honoring a deserving student," commented Bay St. Louis City Clerk Kay Johnson, chairman of the Municipal Association's Scholarship Committee.

Type-a-thon

BHS Business Club students type to aid Leukemia Society

Bay High School's Business Club students participated in a '5 Minutes for Life' Leukemia Type-a-thon recently. The students collected pledges based on correct words per minute typed during a 5-minute time period.

After the type-a-thon, the participants collected a total of $241 for the Leukemia Society. The top fund-raisers received sports bags and t-shirts for their efforts.

Leukemia is the No. 1 killer of children, yet it strikes ten times as many adults as children. The 5 Minutes for Life Leukemia Type-a-thon encourages students to increase typing skills and to help victims of leukemia.

Money raised from this event will be used to help fund the Leukemia Society's programs of research and patient aid. There are more than 320 patients in Mississippi receiving financial aid from the Leukemia Society.

For more information about leukemia, the Leukemia Society and its programs, call collect (205) 939-1690.
